OUTDOOR DRINKING GUIDE

WELCOME TO

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

(WITH A GREAT DRINK IN HAND)

Here's to drinking outside—arguably one of life's greatest pleasures. Whether it's a rooftop in New York, a sun-soaked patio in Austin, or a secret riverside spot only locals know in Montana, we've scouted the best places across all 50 states to sip under the sky. From iconic outdoor bars to expert picks in your favorite cities, this guide is your go-to for where to catch good vibes with a drink in hand.

And speaking of better drinks... we're thrilled to bring you a new offering perfect for your outdoor drinking moments: Yellowstone Cocktails. Ready to pour, easy to share, and packed with flavor, they're the perfect companion for wherever the outdoors takes you. So get outside and have a drink!

INTRODUCING YELLOWSTONE COCKTAILS

Yellowstone Bourbon Cocktails mixes 150 years of bourbon excellence with bold, modern flavors for a ready-to-serve lineup that's made to share — whatever your version of “outdoors” may be. Made with award-winning Yellowstone Bourbon and real ingredients, these new cocktails bring big flavor with zero fuss. Lightweight, spill-proof, and sustainably packaged, they're built for backyard hangs, mountaintop toasts, and everything in between. Choose from three deliciously different expressions—Gold Rush, Blood Orange Old Fashioned, or Bourbon Espresso—and raise a cup to good times and great bourbon.

GOLD RUSH

With a rush of fig, honey, and lemon, this Gold Rush blends classic flavors with a zesty modern twist for a sip that's equal parts timeless and trendy.

BLOOD ORANGE OLD FASHIONED

This Old Fashioned gets a refreshing twist with zesty blood orange, bold bitters, and a rich cherry finish that adds just the right touch of sweetness and depth.

BOURBON ESPRESSO

This bourbon-based espresso cocktail offers a bold kick of coffee, vanilla, and raisin, blending rich espresso with smooth bourbon for an indulgent sip that's as complex as it is irresistible.

@jessacaruso22

Jess has been in the hospitality industry since she was a 16-year-old. Having lived across three states and two incredible cities—Denver, where she has been a resident for 20 years, and Charleston—she has been fortunate to work and play in some of the most beautiful places. Now she enjoys writing and anything outside with her family and two dogs.

City Park in Denver is a vibrant urban oasis offering stunning skyline and mountain views, making it a favorite spot for locals and visitors alike. The park features serene lakes with swan boats, spacious green areas perfect for picnics, and live jazz music that creates an unbeatable atmosphere. Great for all ages, City Park is ideal for leisurely walks around the lake or simply relaxing outdoors while soaking in the scenic beauty.

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Jess: A great view, cocktail options, and comfort. While I'm all for standing at the edge of a rooftop patio, I also want to be able to sink into a comfy spot and truly enjoy the view (and the sip).

I love that there is both indoor and outdoor seating, so you can still get great views no matter the weather. Plus, the drinks are great, there's a food menu, and it never feels too crowded. It's just the right mix of laid-back and scenic."

- Amanda Bittner

What makes it an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Amanda: For me, it's all about the views. You can have the best cocktail in the world, but if there's no scenery, it just doesn't hit the same. I want to sip something good while watching the sun set over the mountains or the city lights start to glow. A great view just makes everything feel a little more special.

“It’s for a summer day on the rooftop patio. It has a great view of downtown and cool vibes.”

- Pat Evans

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Pat: A cozy ambiance with enough shade if it’s sunny and hot, but also offers great views of whatever might be around. It, of course, needs to have a solid menu, from draft beers to cocktails and wine selections.

Chelsea is a proud Grand Rapids local and has been a resident for 32 years. Her lifestyle blog, My Grand Rapids Life, shares her favorite local shops, restaurants, events, and hidden gems around the city. Whether she’s exploring new breweries, attending a baby-and-me yoga class, or supporting small businesses at a weekend market, Chelsea loves highlighting the vibrant community that makes Grand Rapids so special.

“In the summertime, their back patio turns into this tropical oasis! They bring in sand and palm trees, the whole tiki vibe. Every night, they have great live bands which completes the tropical atmosphere. It is very relaxing sitting in the sand, sipping on a cold drink, and their food is also amazing. It’s a win all around.”

- Chelsea Sinke

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Chelsea: The ambiance can really make or break the vibe you are trying to achieve.

- Ana Gutierrez

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Ana: I'm looking for a vibe that complements the occasion. String lights, interesting decor, comfortable seating, and a general feeling of relaxation or energy (depending on what I'm after) are big pluses. If it feels like an extension of a cool indoor space, but with fresh air, that's a win. While not essential, a nice view definitely elevates the experience. It could be a cityscape, a glimpse of nature, potential for people-watching, or even just a well-designed patio space itself. A good view adds another layer of enjoyment to the drinks and conversation.

"As a dad, I don't do nightlife too often, so outdoor patios are my favorite place for a happy hour drink. I'm particularly fond of a South Austin gem Radio Coffee & Beer. They've got a stellar collection of food trailers, indoor/outdoor hangs, and free live music throughout the week. It's the perfect blend of old-school and new-school ATX."

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Travis: Ambiance, shade, and feeling like you're tucked away from the traffic and chaos of the city.

David is an award-winning executive producer and host of Texas Eats, a TV food show that showcases the diverse and delicious cuisine of the Lone Star State. With over eight years of experience in media and food, David has a passion for creating engaging and entertaining content that celebrates the stories and flavors of Texas.

"The Friendly Spot in San Antonio is located in the heart of Southtown, a dynamic and ever-changing space of trendsetting restaurants and local events that offers TVs and a comfortable spot to chill on a beautiful Texas afternoon. The Comal and Guadalupe rivers offer tourists and locals alike an experience like no other. Grab an inflated inner tube, get your friends, get a speaker, load up your ice chest full of the coldest drinks, and go have the best time on nature's very own lazy river."

- Davis Elder

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

David: A good outdoor drinking spot must have plenty of drinks, great vibes, music or TVs, and access to great bites.

"This place is such a vibe! The decor and atmosphere are extra swanky, but the rooftop patio also offers great views of the historic square and downtown San Antonio."

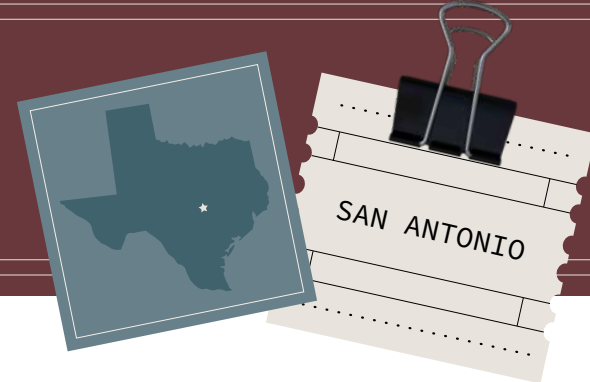

- Kelsey Campbell

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Kelsey: I am a sucker for a good view. I love a comfy seating area that promotes good conversation, but sometimes I just want to sip a cocktail and watch what is happening around me.

LOWCOUNTRY

@lowcountrysa

"San Antonio has a great tradition of icehouses. In bygone days, merchants would sell large blocks of ice for refrigeration along with "cold drinks." Eventually these spots turned into a sort of open-air bar and the perfect neighborhood hangout on a hot South Texas day. The big ice block part eventually went away, but places like the porch of Lowcountry still capture the time tested enjoyment of a cool drink on a hot day."

- Matt Tumlinson

What makes an ideal outdoor drinking destination?

Matt: A good drinking spot is like a good, classic cocktail: Simple ingredients, but when put together in the right way, you don't need a whole lot else.
